Re: Kai Jaeger

Kai Jaeger has done consulting work for my company, The Carlisle Group, over many years.

When handed a project, Kai is diligent and thorough, always taking the project through to completion, and timely communicating any issues or problems along the way.

Our primary development environment at The Carlisle Group is a Dyalog APL. Kai is deeply familiar with all aspects of the extensive Dyalog environment, including graphical user interface design and programming. He has worked on projects for us on a wide range of problems, including optimization, system integration, testing, and graphical user interface design and programming. In particular Kai developed the entire help system, a complex grid subsystem, and a significant part of the core server in our flagship product. All of these projects required extensive design, organization, coding, and superior communication skills, and we have been very pleased with the results.

In addition to his considerable APL skills, Kai aggressively jumps into a wide range of technologies and tools, including the Web, and he is an expert at integrating these with the Dyalog APL environment. These include HTTP, HTML, CSS and relational database management systems.

In summary, I highly recommend Kai for important projects with Dyalog APL. I am available to discuss Kai further by email at paul@carlislegroup.com, or by phone US Eastern Time at 570-313-6949.

Sincerely,
